> The grand demonstration by the De-mocracy of New Albany, which is to take place to-morrow, is attracting general atten-tion and interest throughout Southern In-diana. It will unquestionably be one of the most imposing meetings of the present exciting canvass, and the torchlight procession to-morrow night will surpass anything of the kind ever seen in this latitude.

It seems from the dispatches that Hor ichard H. Dana is to be a candidate in op position to Beast Butler, another Republican convention having been called for Monday next. So it seems there are some Radicals even in Massachusetts who are not willing to swallow the Beast.

The Radicals have a meeting at Jeffer sonville to-day and a torch-light procession to-night, which has been gotten up for the express purpose of surpassing the splendid mocratic meeting and procession of a few weeks since.

The Difference. In an article under the above caption called the attention of our readers, some days since, to the very marked contra furnished by a comparison of the candidates for the Presidency presented by the two great parties into which the people of the United States are divided. No one of the Courier's many thousand readers, we venture to say, whatever may be his political opinions, perused the article to which we have reference without coinciding in his secret soul, with the conclusion therein arrived at that a comparison of the relative merits of these two candidates for exalted position is infinitely to the advantage of Horatio Seymour over Ulysses knowledged as a statesman of irreproachcble private character, distinguished worth and devoted patriotism; while the latter point beyond which patience ceases to be a for election of the control is of questionable private habits, of an inferior order of mental capacity, and singularly deficient in all the attributes of true statesmanship. It is idle now to discuss whether he or those of his natural allies and friends with who differed were in the right. It is sufficient that he did differ from them, and very encouraging. Well-informed gentle-differ boldly; and that he did so because he believed the peculiar institution of the South inimical to the best interests of the white race. His anti-slavery sentiments never had the slightest admixture of that mawkish and false philauthropy that appertained to New England Abolition They were the result of his judg ment as to what was most conducive the interests and welfare of the white me and of the nation. While many who once pro fessed themselves opposed to all interfer ence with slavery have gone on from step to step until they are now raving roaring Radicals, Frank Blair stands precisely where he has always stood. In his political sentiments he has known neither variableness nor shadow of utra-lag. The old point of difference between hira and his brother Democrats of the South having ceased to exist, he is in possession of the fullest confidence and esteem of Democrats everywhere. We have spoken of Gen. Blair's political record and sentiments. If they are such a o inspire confidence, his ability and qual ifications as a statesman are not less so Everything Frank Blair does he does well. As a General in the Federal army in the

With a mind peculiarly vigorous by nature and highly cultivated, with a cain and clear judgment, and a character singularly bold and resolute, he could hardly fail to achieve success in any underslight importance in a Vice Presidential candidate, especially when we take into consideration the possibility that, in the dispensations of an inscrutable Providence, he may have the duties of the first office in the nation to discharge. If we have little to say of Gen. Blair's private charac not because it is not beyond proach, but because we hold the despicable slanderers who have sometimes sought to malign him in too much contempt to do

Congonial Spirits.

Mrs. Klimbeth Cody Stanton, in the course of a very able editorial (in her paper the Revolution) on "the difference in sex," says:

To use it is a beautiful idea, that as there is just that physical difference in man and woman new control in the subject of the weight of the working of the weight of that there is set of soul as well as body the higher orders of being are drawn together by the sexual attricts those of passion. Yes, there is a marriage of souls as well as bodies, and it is the true union that humanity signs for to-day.

Three Husbands Poisoned by Their Wives.

A most extraordinary case is to be iried shortly before Cour d'Assizes of Marseillez. It has just been discovered that three women coolly and deliberately poisoned their lustants in order to marry again. Two of the bashands died some mouths ago, the third last August. All three bodies have been exhumed, to be analyzed by medical men, each of the husbands died some mouths ago, the third last August. All three bodies have been exhumed, to be analyzed by medical men, each of the viewwis shaudist river explain, in due one of the vietna. One of the women is fortly five years of age, another thirty-dive, and the third searcely twenty. As far as can be as eriained at present, they appear to have been assisted in their crime by a fourth woman-necromancer, or tiersand and the deed and helped to accomplish it.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The following was received this morning at Army Headquarters: Sr. Louis, Sept. 28.—Adjt. Gen. I. S. A.: Gen. Sherian has full reports from Colonel Bankhead, who would start to Fort Wallace on the 27th inst. He reports Lieut. Bercher and Surgeon Moore dead and buried, also T. W. Culver, W. Wilson and Lewis Farley, seouls, dead, and he gives a list of fourteen killed, besides Col. Fornythe, who has two wounds. He thinks at least seventy-4ve Indians were killed or badly wounded. From signs it is alleged that the Indians are moving South. Gen. Sheridan reports seven companies of the 5th cavality on hand ready for service, and he will keep every man at work to catch and destroy the Indians.
